

FRAMEWORKS OF COMMUNICATION

Transmediterranean Dimensions (600–1350)

Communication connected religious, ethnic, linguistic, and other collectives across the Mediterranean. Contributions to the workshop examine the normative, linguistic, and infrastructural elements that facilitated, channelled, or obstructed interaction.

Tuesday, 8 September 2026

09:00–10:00: Sam Ottewill-Soulsby (Tübingen), 796–838: The Ex Miraculis s. Genesii on the Transfer of Relics from Jerusalem to Schienen

10:00–11:00: Ophelia Norris (Munich), c. 870: Bernard the Monk on Letters and Currency Exchange while Travelling to the Holy Land

11:30–12:30: Antonia Bosanquet (Utrecht), 829–830: Assistance from al-Andalus: Trans-Mediterranean Support for the Conquest of Sicily and its Aftermath

14:00–15:00: Robert Friedrich (Munich), 1229: A French and German Speech by the Master of the Teutonic Order Following Frederick II's Arrival in Jerusalem

15:00–16:00: Jasmin Hauck (Greifswald): Multilingualism and Legal Pluralism in the Assises de la Cour des Bourgeois

16:30–17:30: Uri Zvi Shachar (Tel Aviv), Le Livre de Sidrac: A Mediterranean Theory on the Origin of Languages in Lusignan Cyprus (ca. 1300)

17:30–18:30: Romain Rousseau (Paris), 1201: An Exchange of Letters between the Governor of Tunis, Abū Zayd, and Girardo Visconti

Wednesday, 9 September 2026

09:00–10:00: Daniel G. König (Munich), 1231: Overseas Consuls in a Treaty between Venice and the Early Ḥafṣids

10:00–11:00: Alasdair Grant (Mainz), 1288: Treaty between Genoa and the Armenian Kingdom of Cilicia

11:30–12:30: Simon Hasdenteufel (Athens), 1354: An Inventory for the Exploitation and the Defense of a Latin Lordship in the Peloponnese

Venue:
Historicum, Schellingstraße 12,
K226

